

DNER

DEFINING MEN'S FASHION $10

MONDAY, MARCH 17, 2008

Prep Rally

Street Fashion Goes Collegiate
As Young Men's Cleans Up for Fall

AMERICAN APPAREL EXPANDS TO CHINA

BY ANDREW HARMON

LOS ANGELES — American Apparel Inc.'s rapid retail rollout will soon count China as among its international conquests.

Timed to coincide with the upcoming Beijing Summer Olympics that has intensified foreign retail interest in a burgeoning Chinese middle class, the vertically integrated manufacturer of slim-fit T's and other perennial basics has announced its intent to open doors in Shanghai, Beijing and Suzhou next month. The company is currently finalizing leases for the three locations.

See AMERICAN APPAREL, page 3

Liz Claiborne
Signs License
With DKNY
3

First Peek
at J. Crew
Men's Store
4

Streetwear's
Global Push:
9 Top Retail
Destinations
15